3. The Controller may be contacted in particular by e-mail at info@sensilabs.pl or by writing to us at the address of our registered office.

What data about you do we collect?

Data that we collect when you contact us

1. When you contact us via the website, by phone or e-mail, you provide us with your personal data, e.g. name, surname, e-mail address, telephone number.
2. Your personal data will be processed for a period lasting at the latest until you withdraw your consent.
3. Providing personal data is voluntary, but if you do not provide your personal data, it will make it impossible for us to contact you and to render services to you.

How do we use your data?

1. We do not share or sell the data collected about you to third parties.
2. Your personal data are processed in order to enable communication between the users of the Application and the proper use of the available functionalities.
3. If you asked a question via our website, we will use your data to answer your question.
4. While rendering the services, we may market our own services. For this purpose, it is necessary to process the User's data, and the legal basis is the legitimate interest of dbdigger, which is the marketing of its own services (Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR).
5. In the event the Terms and Conditions of our service are violated or if the provisions of law so require, we may make your data available to the judicial authorities.

Purpose and basis of the processing

1. We process your data for the purpose of providing electronic services by dbdigger and for other purposes specified in the Terms and Conditions.
2. We process data only to the extent necessary for these purposes and for the period necessary to perform a contract or until the revocation of the consent by the service user.
3. We process your data under:
 - a) Article 6(1)(a) of the GDPR, i.e. the statutory authorisation to process the data required in order to act in compliance with the law;
 - b) Article 6(1)(b) of the GDPR, i.e. the necessity for the performance of a contract, to which the data subject is a party;
 - c) Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR (legitimate interest of controllers).

What are your rights

Data protection laws provide for a number of options that you can use at any time. Your rights include:

1. The right to access your personal data and to obtain their copy;
2. The right to have your data rectified;
3. The right to erase your data;
4. The right to restrict the processing of your data;
5. The right to submit an objection against personal data processing;
6. The right to data portability;
7. The right to lodge a complaint to a supervisory authority, i.e. to the President of the Personal Data Protection Authority;
8. The right to withdraw the consent to personal data processing.

In order to exercise your rights, send a request to the e-mail address: info@sensilabs.pl.

Personal Data Security

While processing your personal data, we use technical and organizational measures in accordance with the current legislation, including SSL certificate connection encryption.

How will we contact you?

1. If you asked a question by e-mail, you may receive e-mails from us regarding your case. If you provided your phone number, we may also contact you by phone.
2. If you subscribed to our e-newsletter or otherwise agreed to receive it, you will receive it from us via e-mail.
